By Telegraph to The Freeman.

El Paso, Aug 31.—John A. Sayles, an American cotton grower in the Coahuila district, was shot on Sunday night at San Pedro de las Colonias, according to advices received here early today.

Sayles was shot by a Villista colonel, according to a code message received by American officials. It is believed that the American formerly was a resident of Los Angeles, Cal., and efforts were being made today to communicate with his relatives. Messages telling of Sayles's death failed to state whether he was shot in a quarrel with the officer or was executed by a firing squad.

PLOT TO CRIPPLE MUNTION PLANTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Secret service and department of justice special agents today are investigating not only the recent explosions in powder mills of the country working on contracts for the allies, but a series of experiments in plants manufacturing other classes of war materials

Special Agent Bielaski of the department of justice, admits that some of his best men have been assigned to determine the truth of charges that a well organized conspiracy exists to cripple plants that have received big contracts for war supplies. So far, it is said, no evidence had been obtained to support this theory, but the investigation is to be continued until it is shown whether there is any connection between these and various "accidents" of a similar nature thta have taken place in a dozen widely separated plants.

Although some of the investigations are being made in co-operation with local authorities the majority of them are entirely independent and conducted exclusively by federal officers There has been turned over to them in certain instances evidence gathered by the detective agency which has been operating for the British embassy since the commencement of the war. This evidence, it is alleged, indicates that cash rewards have been "suggested" by certain sympathizers with the German cause for action which would prevent

BERLIN READY TO FIX THE BLAME

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—The imperial government, according to semi-official inspired newspapers today, considers the Arabic matter a closed incident.

The government is willing to blame the submarine commander for the catastrophe when he returns. The under-sea boat which is believed to have sent the White Star liner to the bottom has not been heard from since the sinking, which occurred August 19

There is considerable bitterness in militarist circles owing to the alleged weakness of the chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg. Consequently there is considerable ill-feeling against the United States. The newspapers promise William J. Bryan, the former secretary of state, a cordial welcome in Berlin.

FREE WANT AD MAY HELP THEM

WANTED —A suitable candidate for mayor on the Democratic ticket. Applications must be received before Friday night Contributions enclosed with applications will receive first consideration Address all communications to "Committee on Mayor" or Supervisor Frank P. Quigley, chairman of Democratic City Committee

This advertisement is inserted free of charge in the hope that it will touch the heart of some patriotic Democrat by its pathetic appeal, and it tells in a few words what occurred at the second secret caucus held by the Democrats of the city on Monday evening at the city hall to which only loyal Democrats were admitted.

At the first secret caucus it was found impossible to find a candidate for mayor satisfactory to the party "leaders" and a committee on mayor was appointed who were expected to report Monday evening. They did report but success had not marked their efforts to find a "goat" and they asked for an extension of time and after considerable deliberation the "leaders" finally decided to give them until Friday night in which to find a and to that time the meeting adjourned

As usual no reporters were allowed to attend the meeting on Monday evening as it was not thought best to allow the rank and file of the Democratic party to learn that the "leaders" are unable to get any one willing to run for mayor on the ticket.

LITERACY TEST VOTED DOWN

Spirited Debate in Which Judge Clearwater Led the Fight to Require Literacy Test of Voters.

There was a most animated debate in the Constitutional Convention over what is termed the literacy amendment proposed by Delegate at Large Charles H. Young of Westchester, which provided that after January 1, 1918, no person should acquire the right to vote by naturalization by attaining his majority or otherwise unless, except for physical disability, able to read or write the English language The amendment was strongly supported by George W. Wickerham, Henry L. Stimson, General James W. Wadsworth and Judge Clearwater, and was bitterly opposed by Louis Marshall, the eminent Hebrew lawyer of New York, who said that it was the pride of the Jewish race that they held themselves aloof from people not of their faith, that they spoke their own language, and they read their own newspapers which were printed in Yiddish, which newspapers had a circulation of upwards of a million in the state He said they maintained their own schools in which they taught Yiddish, and that there were many Jews who never cared to learn to read or write English.

The amendment was adopted by a handsome majority, and then three days afterwards, under a threat conveyed to the officers of the convention, that the Hebrews on the east side of New York city would vote against the new constitution if it contained the amendment, the convention, much to the disgust of many of its leading members, reversed its action.

Judge Clearwater was selected to make the argument in favor of the amendment and against the reversal. He said in part "It is evident that there is great confusion of thought in this constitution regarding the purpose of this amendment, which does not deprive, and is not intended to deprive any voter now entitled to vote of his right to do so. It simply prescribes the qualifications of those who after being afforded two years to prepare themselves to vote intelligently and properly as American citizens, shall be able either to read the ballot which they deposit, or write their names as required by the law There has been a deliberate confusion between the right to vote and the qualifications of immigration to this country This amendment does not debar foreigners from coming here no matter how illiterate nor does it debar them from becoming naturalized, from holding property, from buying, selling and devising it as they choose, but if adopted it will prescribe after the first day of January, 1918, the fundamental conditions of the right to vote for men who shall frame the laws and the constitutions of this commonwealth

"I listened with admiration to my friend Mr Marshall's eulogy of the race from which he sprang, the race that not only gave us great law givers, the great poets, but I go farther than Mr. Marshall will go, the race that gave us the Saviour of mankind This is not a question of race, and it is unfortunate that that suggestion should have been brought into the discussion of what is a broad problem of the organic law of a great commonwealth, not only today, but for twenty years to come, a problem which should be discussed without passion, prejudice of denunciation of the motives of those who espouse it As, however, it has been forced upon our consideration, it may not be amiss briefly to consider whether or no there be any peril involved in this great inundation of illiterate emigrants to this country and state Some four years ago I had occasion to collect from the reports of the Commissioners of Immigration of the United States statistics upon this exact matter. Now, see what they are: This is a collation relating to immigrants over 14 years of age, who came to the United States between 1899 and 1909. During that ten years there came here 7,199,618 foreigners of which but 1,983,618 came from the races of Northwestern Europe. Of the total of this northwestern emigration only two and seven-tenths were unable to read or write. But of the races of Southwestern Europe and Western Asia, who numbered as immigrants 5,215,442, thirty-six and six-tenths per cent were absolutely illiterate A more striking evidence of the difference between the two classes of immigration it would be difficult to present.

"Let us analyze this illiteracy: Among the Scandinavians, it was but four-tenths of one per cent; among the Scotch, seven-tenths of one per cent; among the English, one and one-tenth per cent; among the Finnish, one and four-tenths per cent, among the Welsh, two per cent; among the Irish, two and seven-tenths per cent; among the Dutch and Finnish, four and seven-tenths per cent. Among the races of Southwestern Europe and Western Asia the illiteracy among the Roumanians was thirty-four and seven-tenths per cent; among the Croatians and Slovenians, thirty-six and four-tenths per cent; among the Russians, thirty-eight and five-tenths per cent; among the Bulgarians, Servians and Montenegrins, forty-one and eight tenths per cent; among the Lithuanians, forty-eight and eight-tenths per cent; among the Ruthenians, fifty-one and one-tenth per cent; among the Southern Italians, including the Sicilians, fifty-four and two-tenths per cent, among the Portuguese, sixty-eight and two-tenths per cent.

"No man in his senses will claim that illiteracy is the final test of intelligence, but where an entire civilization presents such a gross average of illiteracy as is indicated by these carefully compiled statistics, it is at least some evidence as to the qualification to enjoy the right to elect men who shall make the laws for a commonwealth as great as the state of New York.

"There is a more sinister feature; the state commissioner of lunacy of this state shows that of the insane patients in our various hospitals or asylums, forty-one and nine-tenths per cent are alien, and that the ratio of the foreign-born insane during the ten years preceding December 31, 1913, increased by thirteen and four-tenths per cent In our two great hospitals for the criminal insane forty-four and four-tenths of the insane criminals are of foreign birth, and last year New York spent $3,290,750 for the care of the foreign-born insane.

"Mr Chairman, this is no narrow question It is one of the broadest, most fundamental principles of state. And, despite the threats of visitation of displeasure of large bodies of men, it seems to me that the delegates to this convention should rise above a spirit of mere opportunism, we should never forget that we are framing the organic law, not only for today, but for generations yet unborn And the great point with us should be: Frame the constitution for an American commonwealth, because if you make this requirement the men who elect your legislators and frame your laws, and who will frame for no constitutions, will accept the condition and will melt in with the great body of our citizens.

"Consider for a moment across the border the Province of Quebec, where they have a dual situation, profoundly to the regret of both the French and the English Their proceedings in courts of justice are conducted in a bilingual manner, with a jury half French and half English Every man in public life, in Quebec, English or French, deplores that the Dominion of Canada, the Province of Quebec, did not have the courage to meet the situation as these delegates have the opportunity and should have the courage to meet it. I agree with Mr. Marhsall that he comes from a great race, and it is a great race from which my friend, Judge Morgan J O'Brien, sprang, but this is America. It is not Syria, or Italy, or Russia, or Holland, or Ireland, or France. All these countries have contributed to our greatness, but it is an element of weakness to perpetuate and continue a line of cleavage, and no greater cleavage can exist than a difference in language, that method by which man communicates his thoughts Let me, therefore, urge the adoption of this amendment as a contribution to the effort to maintain the greatness of a country and a state to which we all belong, regardless of the countries from which our ancestors came."

The campaign initiated by the Chamber of Commerce to sell one hundred $50 shares of the Kingston Factory Corporation for the purpose of raising money to erect a building suitable for a manufactory which has agreed to come to this city and employ a large number of both men and women, is now under way The committee in charge has been fortunate in securing the assistance of Charles V. A. Decker in obtaining subscriptions Mr. Decker began his work this morning and has already met with so much encouragement that it may be said that the new enterprise is as good as secured if the citizens whom he has yet to see manifest the same spirit of willingness At the desire of the firm which is to occupy the proposed building its name will not be given general publicity just now, but its standing has been thoroughly investigated by the Chamber of Commerce, which considers it to be a most desirable acquisition for Kingston.

WARRING NATIONS CONCILIATE U. S.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, Aug. 31.—Germany and England now are in the mood to be conciliatory to the United States. As a result the administration is hopeful that a majority at least of the questions that have resulted in the greatest friction with this country can be adjusted. Both at Berlin and London the American ambassadors are endeavoring to emphasize and capitalize the new friendly feeling.

The chief source of trouble with Germany, the submarine methods, will be close to adjustment within the present week. Ambassador Von Bernstorff will come here, probably on Thursday, to offer complete reparation for the sinking of the Arabic. It it intimated that if a report from the submarine commander who sunk the liner is not available by that time, Germany will assume that the under-seas boat was lost and will act accordingly. She has promised complete satisfaction and officials now are satisfied that this will be given

The German ambassador told Secretary Lansing at their last conference that his instructions stated that as soon as the Arabic difficulty was disposed of he would be authorized to take up other matters It is understood that the first of these will be a request to the United States that its influence be used to assist in restoring the "freedom of the seas" and in calling off the present allied blockade of Germany, which admittedly is a theoretical one

Meanwhile it is understood that the German foreign office practically has completed the draft of a new note to the United States answering President Wilson's last Lusitania communication. It will accept the position of the United States on submarine warfare and agree that in future the safety of Americans shall not be jeopardized in the slightest degree. This note is to be transmitted just as soon as the Arabic incident is closed

The state department elated because England has admitted the justice of its contention that American-owned goods, purchased or contracted for prior to the issuance of the order-in-council, have the right of uninterrupted passage to the United States is preparing to push its advantage The proposed new note to Great Britain will insist that all goods not absolutely contraband have the same right, and England will be asked to so rule.

The new note of protest to England, now about completed, probably will go forward just as soon as the Arabic incident is closed It is said to be the longest state document of the war so far as the United States is concerned and to reject completely the British defence of its order-in-council and its action in making cotton contraband.

COLD WAVE IS MOVING EASTWARD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Aug 31.—The August cold weather that smashed records in Chicago and the middle west yesterday was still on hand today, although the sun warmed things up a bit during the morning hours.

Frost was reported from parts of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. The thermometers at crop stations registered below 40 degrees in many places in those states In Memphis, Tenn today a temperature of 55 was recorded.

The government bureau today stated that the cold wave was moving eastward into Pennsylvania and New York, but that the warmth of the Atlantic ocean would temper the unseasonable cold spell.

MISSING HIGH FALLS MAN HEARD FROM

The family of Supervisor Philip Hasbrouck of High Falls received word from him today He is in the western part of the state where he was called on business after he had reached Albany on Saturday. MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of Mrs. Georgianna Rose Ganse, wife of Dr. Casper H. Ganse, which was admitted to probate by Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court on Monday, makes large provision for benevolences. If any of these residuary beneficiaries die before Dr. Ganse, the executors are instructed to select some charitable institution to which such trust share shall be paid, but if the Industrial Home of Kingston be in existence at that time, it is the wish of the testatrix that the trustees will select it as the beneficiary.

LEITNER ADMITS MURDER OF WIFE

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, Aug. 31.—Samuel Leitner, private detective, this afternoon confessed to Coroner Israel Feinberg that he fired the five shots that late last night killed his invalid wife Sarah.

"My wife and I quarreled," said Leitner. "She grabbed a hatpin and threatened to jab me with it. Then she seized the revolver on my desk and holding it over my head threatened to kill me. I seized her and we struggled back and forth until I got the revolver away from her and that finished it."

"Then you fired the five shots that killed your wife?" demanded Coroner Feinberg, bent on having a definite answer.

"Yes," whispered the detective as he broke down and sobbed.

Mrs. Leitner, an invalid, was shot to death in her husband's office last night. Before his confession Leitner said his wife was murdered by two strangers wearing gray caps.

VILLA PROMISES HE WILL BE GOOD

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, Aug. 31.—A positive promise that he will support any plan which the United States eventually may decide on for the restoration of constitutional government in Mexico by General Francisco Villa was brought to Secretary of State Lansing by General Hugh L. Scott today. The army chief of staff, who had just returned from the border where he has been in conference with Villa and his chief lieutenants, told the secretary that Villa had told him flatly that he was willing to eliminate himself entirely from Mexican affairs if by so doing he will be able to aid in the creation of a stable government.

Villa, however, made it apparent that he was unalterably opposed to any recognition of Carranza unless the cabinet places and general officers of the next government were apportioned so that all factions will be recognized. In addition he filed with General Scott a list of men whom he declared neither he nor the men who are affiliated with him could support in Mexico. This list includes most of the men who were prominently identified with the administration of Former President Diaz and General Huerta.

Secretary Lansing stated this afternoon that the last invitation to Mexican leaders to participate in a peace conference was delivered yesterday. Constructively the ten day limit within which replies will be expected will expire on September 9, but he indicated that there would be no reason to await all of them as the attitude of the majority already has been indicated. The secretary said he expected that definite action would be taken on the second step of the Latin-American United States policy of pacification before the end of this week, but declines to indicate just what it will be.

General Scott said specifically this afternoon that he will not go to Vera Cruz to confer with Carranza or Obregon.

Curious Letter Endings.

A few specimens of the style of beginning and ending letters in the old days may prove interesting as in striking contrast to the laconic "yours obediently," "faithfully" or "truly" of the present day. It would certainly be difficult to match the following subscription of a letter from the Duke of Shrewsbury to Sir Thomas Hanmer, dated September, 1713: "I desire that you will believe that, wherever I am, I shall always endeavor to deserve and very much value your friendship, being, with a sincere esteem, sir your most faithful and obedient servant, Shrewsburr."

Frequently one meets with bellicose subscriptions, as in the case of the Earls of Huntly and Errol, who in 1594 threatened "awful consequences" to the magistrates of Aberdeen unless they released certain gentlemen imprisoned in their city and subscribed, "Yours as ye will, either present peace or weir."

Telling Time in West Africa.

KINGSTON, N. Y. AUG. 31, 1915.

The problem of securing lasting world peace is occupying the attention of a considerable number of more or less great men just now, but, unfortunately, they reach different conclusions. According to Colonel Roosevelt, the best way to preserve peace is for every nation to keep itself armed to the teeth. He thinks that if the United States had had a big army and navy in readiness the Germans would not have torpedoed any ships carrying our citizens and that the Mexicans would have behaved themselves. Indeed, we infer from his remarks that if Great Britain had had an army of several million men ready to take the field, the Teuton alliance would never have ventured to start a war.

This is far from being Colonel Bryan's notion. He thinks the correct plan is to turn the other cheek and let the bullies do their worst, peace being the main thing, no matter what the price. A thinker along similar lines is Norman Angell, who long before the war wrote a book which set out to demonstrate the theory that the conquest of a country would not hurt it much, involving an unimportant change of rulers, and that invaders could be trusted not to ruin property to any extent, since all nations are bound together financially to such an extent that the ruin of one would be the ruin of all. In view of recent events, there are now but few disciples in this school of thought.

President Lowell of Harvard University puts his faith in a league of nations which should be pledged to declare war upon any nation breaking the peace. He shows that when an individual becomes violent society at once declares war upon him, jailing him or perhaps executing him, and thinks that the principle might be extended. He seems to fail to take into account the so-called "higher law" frequently takes vengeance into his own hands. Such offenders are frequently acquitted by juries, and their action might be imitated by juries of nations. Furthermore, the higher law is variously understood in different sections. President Lowell himself admits that it would be "outrageous" if the United States were compelled to submit to arbitration such questions as Asiatic immigration and the Monroe Doctrine. Other nations have like reservations to make, and it is unfortunate that these are the very questions which are likely to lead to wars. There is also the danger that mutual interests would result in the division of the proposed league into two or more parts, which would take us right back where we started from—the era of dual and triple alliances, ententes, etc.

The last named possibility has occurred to John A. Stewart, one of the leaders in the "League to Enforce Peace." He says that "the League will fail in its mission if it goes upon the assumption that it will be able to bring all nations into membership," and that the best it can hope for is to unite a preponderance of the world's financial, physical and moral force." Now, that is just what the German say they have done, and the Allies make the same claim. The Jews, [illegible] declaring themselves to be the "chosen people." Every fighting nation today is offering the same prayer, as the poet Noyes writes it: "O God, deliver thy people. Let thy sword destroy our enemies, Lord." So it has always been and ever will be.

Clearly, no one has yet hit upon a promising plan for the prevention of war. Roosevelt's view is just as nonsensical as the others, and history proves it. A big army and navy are a powerful help in winning a war, but they are powerless to prevent it. Peace societies never yet accomplished anything. The Hague conferences were jokes. Education and culture seem to make things worse, if anything. The Church appears to have no influence whatever on warfare. Doubtless the fact is that war is necessary to evolution and will never cease. About the best our country can do is to follow Washington's advice to shun entangling foreign alliances and keep ourselves in a position to repel invasion.

We are aware that the prophets Isaiah and Micah foretold that in the last days men should beat their swords into ploughshares and learn war no more, but a condition of that event should be the Lord established as the sole ruler of men. We implicitly believe this in a way. When the world is governed by a theocracy with a universally recognized mouthpiece war will cease. This happy day will, of course, be deferred until mankind unanimously agrees whether the said mouthpiece is the Pope, the Sheik-ul-Islam or some other man. It will take some time to accomplish this.

AS IT GOES IN GEORGIA.

(By Our Woman Editor.)

The lady doth protest too much, methinks.

And as for one's own notion of the thing, there is little enough patience with Georgia's protestations of being ever ready to rise to the occasion when woman's honor is in need of guarding, and no faith at all in its sincerity in calling upon chivalry as an excuse for murder.

Because one observes that, whether a state or an individual, fine-sounding words count not at all if, when the practicalities are concerned, fine acts of fair play and justice are missing. And one likewise observes that the states and the individuals that prate the loudest—pardon the expression—about their inborn chivalry toward women are first of all to fall down in their treatment of women out on the rough highways of business or in the by-ways of every-day living. And the man, or the big group of men making up a state, whose hearts beat the truer because of their impulse of chivalry surging along without any noise, are the ones who realize that helpful working conditions better laws, are what touch the real meaning of chivalry.

Georgia talking of woman's honor—Georgia whose idea of chivalry is so highly developed that, by law, it counts a ten-year old girl quite old enough to decide for herself whether she shall hold her honor intact or throw it away! She is not deemed competent to handle her property at that tender age, but as to her morals, the state has little concern. It seems to some of us that its words would reach rather farther and be more convincing if it would take the practical step of improving its laws.

Is it Georgia's splendid chivalry that is responsible for the strange provision in the code that the father, not the mother, is legal guardian of children and at his death may appoint a guardian to the exclusion of the mother?

And chivalry again that is filling the factories with little girls who ought to be at school or at play? A few years ago the statement was read in a report that one-third of all the factory children in Georgia were from ten to thirteen years old. And of that number, of course, a goodly proportion was made up of girls, girls working under conditions that are a continual menace to health and morals. Yet Georgia is strangely unready to follow the lead of other states with laws looking toward the betterment of child labor.

And it does seem that instead of boasting so vainly of its chivalrous protection it would be more practical if it would let women become lawyers after they have earned the right to plead in court. Its constitution and laws provide only for male attorneys, and while it probably sees a heart throb somewhere in the exclusion, there are women who would appreciate more of the spirit of fair play and less of the worshipful words.

And when it comes to individuals, one has learned to run away from the folk who proclaim their belief in the adequacy of instinctive masculine chivalry to carry women through the storm and stress that may mark their way. Not that one does not believe that that blossoms and spreads in beautiful measure in some strong quarters, but, within one's observation, never among those who protest so much; for the deeper the chivalry the surer the conviction that in a practical world, women, no less than men, need the protection of laws and of good working conditions.

And the kind of folk first to say that in times of disaster out on the high seas or in the ordinary working ways, men have something in them that speeds them to the rescue, are also the first to give the depending souls a push in the wrong direction. At least that is one's own observation, and it sort of stirs slumbering ire to hear them feelingly speak of instinctive protection when they are not ready even to be square and just.

When the time comes that Georgia sees a great light where its women are concerned and is willing to accord them more of justice and less of empty adulation that strangely lawless state will not have so much to say about protecting a woman's honor, whatever the cost may be. It will keep itself and its laws sturdy, wholesome and fairly true and will remember the homely old saying that "actions speak louder than words."

And then it will better adorn the great sisterhood of states.

Man's Real Worth.

The prevailing fault of our time is the estimating of manhood by the accidents of life, rather than by its essentials. Not what a man has or what happens to him; not wealth, nor noble blood, nor crowns, nor titles; but the things that are in him and shining through him—his thoughts, motives, springs of action; these constitute the man.—D. J. Burrell.

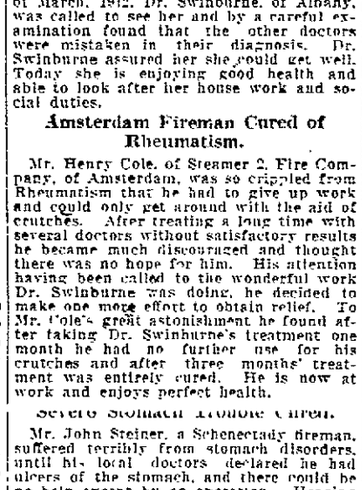
ALBANY DOCTOR
Makes Wonderful Cures



Dr. Swinburne of Albany
will be in Kingston Friday, Sept 3rd, at 340 Broadway.

A Remarkable Cure of Castleton Woman

Mrs. John Vanderwall, of Castleton, N. Y., was an invalid for over two years. Doctors said she had Bright's disease, disorders and heart trouble. There seemed no hope for her case and she was confined to the bed for over a year. On the 12th of March, 1912, Dr. Swinburne, of Albany, was called to see her and by a careful examination found that the other doctors were mistaken in their diagnosis. Dr. Swinburne assured her she could get well. Today she is enjoying good health and able to look after her house work and social duties.

Amsterdam Fireman Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. Henry Cole, of Steamer 2, Fire Company, of Amsterdam, was so crippled from Rheumatism that he had to give up work and could only get around with the aid of crutches. After treating a long time with several doctors without satisfactory results he became much discouraged and thought there was no hope for him. His attention having been called to the wonderful work Dr. Swinburne was doing, he decided to make one more effort to obtain relief. To Mr. Cole's great astonishment he found after taking Dr. Swinburne's treatment one month he had no further use for his crutches and after three months' treatment was entirely cured. He is now at work and enjoys perfect health.

Another Remarkable Case in Schenectady.

Miss H. Robertson, of 24 Thompson St., had severe stomach trouble, also diagnosed as ulcers of stomach by her local doctors, and an operation was advised, but after two months' treatment with Dr. Swinburne she is able to eat all ordinary food without distress, is now feling fine, and has gained 13 pounds in weight.

Albany Woman Cured of Diabetes.

A remarkable cure in Albany is the case of Mrs. George H. Rogers, of 338 Lancaster Street, Pine Hills. Mrs. Rogers had been suffering for some time with the disease known as diabetes millitis, and her family physician could not give her any relief or offer any hope of a cure, for as he stated the urine was very bad and heavily loaded with sugar and of high specific gravity. Knowing of the wonderful results of Dr. Swinburne's treatment in other serious cases, Mrs. Rogers decided to consult him and now after six months, Mrs. Rogers is pleased that she has obtained a complete cure of the trouble and is enjoying good health.

These wonderful results are produced by the improved methods of treatment, and anyone suffering from any trouble, where the family doctor does not produce relief, should consult Dr. Swinburne.

GLASCO.

Glasco, Aug. 30.—Little Roland McClary, not much more than a year old, and just beginning to walk, has so far had his share of minor accidents. Not long ago he fell down the outside cellar steps, without serious injury. Last Friday was his unlucky day. His first stunt was to tumble and bump his unimpeded way down the hall stairway. He didn't appear to mind that much, so in the afternoon he undertook to swallow a button hook. When caught in the act the handle could be seen in his mouth, but the hook had caught in his throat, and could not be dislodged. Arrangements were quickly made by telephone to the Kingston City Hospital to have a surgeon start at once and meet the child with its parents at Hubscher's hotel on the way down. They met there with as little delay as possible and Dr. O'Meara quickly extracted the hook, but it is feared that the vocal cords were torn or injured so that it may injure the child's speech.

A few nights ago a hitherto unknown enemy ventured into the war zone of a mongrel dog belonging to Tony Greco. What happened when they met can only be imagined, as there were no eye witnesses. All that is known is only this and nothing more. That the dog was stuck so full of porcupine quills that he couldn't walk. He couldn't even wag his tail. He was so near dead when found that his master had to shoot him to end his sufferings. The enemy escaped.

DREAM CAUSES PANIC

Wally Schang Throws Hotel Guests Into Pandemonium.

"Loses" Decision in Game With Detroit and Almost Strangles Brother—Says It Was Most Real Contest He Ever Played.

Wally Schang, the Athletics' young catcher, caused a panic in an East Aurora (N. Y.) hotel by dreaming that he was playing baseball. He tagged Ty Cobb in his sleep, awakened everybody in the hotel, and nearly strangled his brother in an argument with the umpire.

Schang recently was in East Aurora as a member of a bowling team, of which his brother, Bob, was also a part.

After the game the boys went to the hotel and retired for the night. On reaching dreamland Wally's mind turned from bowling to baseball, and this fact is what caused all the rumpus and nearly threw the other hotel guests into pandemonium

"He's out! He's out!" cried Wally. "I touched him when he was two feet off the bag!" It was all in the dream, but when the other members of the bowling team broke into the room occupied by the Schang brothers, Wally had the strangle hold on "brother" Bob and had nearly choked him black in the face.

They had some trouble in waking him up and making him understand that he was not playing the great national game and that Brother Bob was not Ty Cobb, the player he was trying to put out at the home plate.

When Wally was thoroughly awake he laughed foolishly at his dream game of ball and then explained: "You see, it was like this. We were playing a close game with Detroit, and Leslie Bush was pitching. There was a runner on first and Cobb was at third. I was afraid of the double steal. I gave Bush the signal to look out for it.

"He threw to first, trying to drive the runner back, but just as he raised his arm Cobb started for the plate. The ball was returned to Bush from first and he whipped it home to me. I tagged Cobb fully two feet before he got home, but the umpire called him safe.

"I was crazy, and I guess I'd have choked Bobby to death if you boys had not come into the room. It was one of the most real games I ever played."

Tommy Leach Was Not the Right Sort of a Leading Man

Tommy Leach of the Cincinnati Reds was passing a Broadway theater the other night, and stopped to gaze at the photos in the lobby, when he noticed a stately man with a blue chin march up to the ticket window. "Pass the profession?" queried the stately person.

"Why, certainly," acquiesced the man in the window. "You are—ahem—you are?"

"I am the leading man for the 'Lion and the Monk' company," replied the stately one, and he walked inside.

Mr Leach saw and heard, much interested. Up to the window came another blue-gilled person. "Pass the profession?" demanded he.

"Why, of course," said the ticket man, "if we know them. You are—?"

"I am leading man for the 'Twin Hammocks' company," explained the second personage, and walked inside.

It was too much for Mr. Leach, and he fluttered up to the window. "Pass the profession?" asked Mr. Leach.

"Yes, indeed, if we know them," said the man in the window. "You are—?"

"I am leading man for the Cincinnati Reds. That is, I lead off in the batting order."

At this moment the lobby of the theater fell on Mr. Leach, and he didn't walk inside.

SONG OF THE SHREW.

It Is Pitched So High That Only Sharp Ears Can Hear It.

The high pitched squeaking or whistling of the shrew is a curious sound and frequently acquires quite a song like character. More often however, the voice of the shrew is raised in anger, for it is a pugnacious little animal, and the males have fierce combats in the spring of the year. It is a curious fact that many people are unable to hear the shrew's squeaking, not that the sound is not loud enough, but because it is so highly pitched that only sharp ears can record the vibrations.

Though often spoken of as a mouse, the shrew is of an entirely different species, being insectivorous and having sharp teeth on each side of the mouth instead of front teeth suitable for gnawing such as are possessed by mice and other rodents.

Though it exists in very great numbers and can very frequently be observed, much remains to be discovered regarding the life of this little creature and its habits, one of which is one of the smallest known mammals. It is still a mystery why so many dead shrews should be found about the roadsides and pathways. They are fearless little animals and even when disturbed in their spring journeys from one place to another they do not allow themselves to be put out of their course by a trifle.—London Spectator.

Y., on Friday, September 10th, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. to which are invited all breeders of Holstein cattle, with their families and friends.

The "Hubbavale" purebred Holsteins, owned by Mr. George C. Hubbard, proprietor of the Hubbard Farms, will be on exhibit, and there will be some lessons, by a competent judge, by H. D. Warner of Pawling. Harry Davis Chester will speak on "Success With Pure Breds."

There will also be a plate exhibit of the leading varieties of apples grown in the Red Hook section, which is one of the best apple growing sections in the state. This exhibit will include apples from the orchard of W. S. Teator, who recently took the sweepstake prize at the International Apple Shippers Association, Chicago. This exhibit was open to exhibitors from all parts of the country, prizes being offered for each the Eastern, the Central, the Western and the Southern groups of states, the sweepstake prize being awarded after re-scoring the four winners of group prizes.

AN ACT to amend the code of civil procedure, in relation to the disposition of surplus arising on the sale of real property to satisfy a mortgage or other lien thereon, and the duties of the officer making such sale.

Became a law May 14, 1915, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

Section 1. Section sixteen hundred and thirty-three of the code of civil procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1633. Disposition of surplus; duties of officer making sale. If there is any surplus of the proceeds of the sale, after paying the expenses of the sale, and satisfying the mortgage debt and the costs of the action, it must be paid into court, for the use of the person or persons entitled thereto. If any part of the surplus remains in court for the period of three months, the court must, if no application has been made therefor, and may if an application therefor is pending, direct it to be invested at interest, for the benefit of the person or persons entitled thereto, to be paid upon the direction of the court. Within thirty days after completing the sale, and executing the proper conveyance to the purchaser, unless such time be extended by an order of the court entered in the office of the clerk within said thirty days, the officer making the sale must file with the clerk his report under oath of the disposition of the proceeds of the sale, accompanied by the vouchers of the persons to whom payments were ordered to be made.

Where real property or an interest in real property, liable to be disposed of as prescribed in article third of title four of chapter eighteen of this act, is sold in an action or special proceeding, or otherwise, to satisfy a mortgage or other lien thereupon, which accrued during the decedent's lifetime, the surplus money must be paid into the surrogate's court having jurisdiction to issue letters testamentary or of administration upon the estate of the decedent, in the following cases:

1. Where eighteen months have not elapsed since the date when letters testamentary or of administration were first issued.

2. Where a proceeding for a judicial settlement of the accounts of such executor or administrator has been commenced within eighteen months from the date of the issue of such letters and is still pending.

3. Where no such letters have been issued and two years have not elapsed since the death of the decedent.

Money paid into the surrogate's court, as herein provided, may be paid out to the executor or administrator of the decedent, as directed by an order of the surrogate's court, to be accounted for by him upon the judicial settlement of his accounts; or, in a special proceeding brought for that purpose in the surrogate's court, an order may be entered directing distribution to the persons entitled thereto, in case eighteen months have elapsed since letters testamentary or of administration were first issued upon the estate of the decedent, or, in case no such letters have been issued, and two years have elapsed since the death of the decedent.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State, ss.:

CHAP. 653.

AN ACT to amend the labor law, in relation to tenant-factories.

Became a law May 15, 1915, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section ninety-four of chapter thirty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to labor, constituting chapter thirty-one of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 94. Tenant-factories. A tenant-factory within the meaning of the term as used in this chapter is a building, separate parts of which are occupied and used by different persons, companies or corporations, and one or more of which parts is so used as to constitute in law a factory. The owner, whether or not he is also one of the occupants, instead of the respective lessees or tenants, shall be responsible for the observance and punishable for the nonobservance of the following provisions of this article, anything in any lease to the contrary notwithstanding, namely, the provisions of sections seventy-nine, seventy-nine-a, seventy-nine-b, seventy-nine-c, eighty-three-a, eighty-three-b, eighty-eight, except subdivision three, eighty-eight-a, except subdivision six, ninety, and the provisions of section eighty-one, with respect to the lighting of halls and stairways; except that the lessees or tenants also shall be responsible for the observance and punishable for the nonobservance of the provisions of sections seventy-nine, seventy-nine-a, seventy-nine-b, seventy-nine-c, within their respective holdings. The owner of every tenant-factory shall provide each separate factory therein with water-closets in accordance with the provisions of section eighty-eight-a, and with proper and sufficient water and plumbing pipes and a proper and sufficient supply of water to enable the tenant or lessee thereof to comply with all the provisions of said section. But as an alternative to providing water-closets within each factory as aforesaid, the owner may provide in the public hallways or other parts of the premises used in common, where they will be at all times readily and conveniently accessible to all persons employed on the premises not provided for in accordance with section eighty-eight-a, separate water-closets for each sex, of sufficient numbers to accommodate all such persons. Such owner shall keep all water-closets located as last specified, at all times provided with proper fastenings, and properly screened, lighted, ventilated, clean, sanitary and free from all obscene writing or marking. Outdoor water-closets shall only be permitted where the commissioner of labor shall decide that they are necessary or preferable, and they shall then be provided in all respects in accordance with his directions. The owner of every tenant-factory shall keep the entire building well drained and the plumbing thereof in a clean and sanitary condition; and shall keep the cellar, basement, yards, areaways, vacant rooms and spaces, and all parts and places used in common in a clean, sanitary and safe condition, and shall keep such parts thereof as may reasonably be required by the commissioner of labor properly lighted at all hours or times when said building is in use for factory purposes. And whenever by the terms of a lease any lessee or tenant shall have agreed to comply with or carry out any of such provisions, his failure or refusal so to do shall be a cause for dispossessing said tenant by summary proceedings as aforesaid. LAWS OF NEW YORK—By Authority.

CHAP. 634.

AN ACT to amend the liquor tax law, in relation to places in which traffic in liquor shall not be permitted and to penalties.

Became a law May 15, 1915, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision nine of section eight of chapter thirty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act in relation to the traffic in liquors and for the taxation and regulation of the same, and to provide for local option, constituting chapter thirty-four of the consolidated laws," as added by chapter four hundred and ninety-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten and amended by chapter two hundred and ninety-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, is hereby amended to read as follows:

9. Issuance of certificates. No liquor tax certificate shall hereafter be issued for traffic in liquors, under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, for any premises in any town, village, borough or city, unless or until the ratio of population therein, to the number of certificates issued under the provisions of said subdivision one, shall be greater than seven hundred and fifty to one, and then only pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision; but this prohibition shall not apply to any premises in which such traffic in liquors was lawfully carried on at some time within one year immediately preceding the passage of this act, provided such traffic was not abandoned thereat during the said period, or to any premises that have been continuously occupied for a hotel from and including the twenty-third day of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-six; nor shall this prohibition apply to any premises in which, during said period of one year, or any part thereof, such traffic in liquors was suspended because of the result of a vote on the local option questions; nor to any premises in which during said period of one year, or any part thereof, such traffic in liquors was prohibited because the certificated premises were suffered and permitted to become disorderly, or that gambling was allowed therein, as provided in subdivision four of section twenty-three of this chapter; nor to any premises in which, during said period of one year, or any part thereof, such traffic in liquors has been temporarily suspended, but not abandoned. Nor shall this prohibition apply to such traffic in liquors in connection with the business of keeping a hotel, provided the hotel building in which such traffic shall be carried on shall conform to all the requirements of clause N of section thirty of this chapter, relative to a hotel situate in a city, incorporated village of twelve hundred or more inhabitants, or within two miles of the corporate limits of either, except that, instead of having ten bedrooms above the basement, exclusive of those occupied by the family and servants, such hotel building shall contain not less than one hundred such bedrooms. Provided, however, that at any time during the unexpired term of any liquor tax certificate issued for traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision one of this section in any premises in which such traffic may lawfully be carried on, a notice stating that such traffic in liquors is abandoned at the premises named in such certificate may be filed with the county treasurer or special deputy commissioner of excise of the county or borough in which the certificated premises are located, which notice shall also particularly describe some other premises in which it is intended to carry on such traffic, which premises shall be situated in the same city, borough, village or town as that in which the abandoned premises are located. In the case of a hotel, other than a hotel containing less than fifty such bedrooms in cities of the first class, such notice shall be in writing and executed and acknowledged by the certificate holder and the owner or owners of the certificated premises and by any person to whom such certificate may have been transferred or assigned as collateral security for moneys loaned or any other obligation incurred; and in all other cases such notice shall be in writing and executed and acknowledged by the certificate holder or by his duly authorized attorney and by any person to whom such certificate may have been transferred or assigned as collateral security for moneys loaned or any other obligation incurred; but in any case such notice shall be null and void unless within sixty days from the filing thereof such traffic in liquors shall be lawfully carried on at the premises described in such notice as the premises in which it is intended to carry on such traffic, and continued thereat for a period of not less than sixty days, and the filing of a notice that becomes null and void shall not be deemed an abandonment of the traffic at the premises described in such liquor tax certificate. After the filing of such notice as aforesaid, the prohibition herein contained shall not apply to the premises described in such notice as the premises in which it is intended to carry on such traffic, provided that an application for a certificate to carry on such traffic in liquors thereat shall be made in due form to the proper officer, within sixty days from the filing of such notice, and provided further that such traffic is continuously thereafter carried on at said premises for a period not less than sixty days. Except in a case where such notice becomes null and void as aforesaid, no liquor tax certificate for traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision one of this section shall thereafter be issued for, and it shall be unlawful to so traffic in liquors in the premises described in such notice as the premises in which the traffic in liquors has been abandoned, unless there shall subsequently be filed another notice of abandonment, in the manner herein provided, which notice shall describe such first abandoned premises as the premises in which it is intended to again carry on such traffic in liquors. Whenever the ratio between the population of any city, borough, village or town and the number of such premises situate therein for such traffic in liquors to which this prohibition does not apply, shall exceed the ratio of seven hundred and fifty to one, additional certificates for traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision one of this section may be issued, as provided in this chapter, in the manner following: The certificate issuing officer of the county or borough in which any such city, borough, village or town is situated, shall, upon the written request of any person who states that he desires to traffic in liquors therein under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, give public notice that on a certain day named he will receive bids in writing, at his office, from all persons who desire to so traffic in liquors, such bids to contain the name of the person who desires to procure a liquor tax certificate, the location of the proposed certificated premises, and the amount that such person is willing to pay in order to so traffic in liquors. Each bid shall be accompanied by an application, in due form, for such certificate for the premises described, which shall include an application statement and bond, as provided in sections fifteen and sixteen of this chapter, and the amount named in the bid, in the form of a certified check, which amount shall at least equal the tax assessed upon such traffic in such city, borough, village or town; and the bid, together with the application for the certificate, shall be inclosed in one envelope, securely sealed, and addressed to the certificate issuing officer. In the case of a city or borough, such notice shall be published at least three days before the day named therein for receiving bids once in one newspaper published in such city or borough, and such notice shall also be printed in large display type and prominently posted up in the office of the certificate issuing officer, at least ten days before the day appointed for receiving bids. In the case of a village or town, such notice shall be published at least five days before the day named for receiving bids, in one newspaper published in the county in which such village or town is situated, which shall be a newspaper published in such village or town, if there be one, and such notice shall also be printed and posted in at least five public places in such village or town at least ten days before the day so appointed for receiving bids. On the day so appointed for receiving bids in the case of any such city, borough, village or town, the certificate issuing officer shall receive all bids that may be submitted to him as herein prescribed, and on the following day shall, at his office, and at a time to be specified in the notice aforesaid, publicly open each and all of such bids submitted, and as soon thereafter as possible prepare a list which shall contain the name of each person who submitted a valid bid, together with the amount thereof, which list shall be a public record. Certificates shall thereupon be issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter to the persons who made the highest bids therefor, and otherwise complied with the requirements of this section, but only upon the basis of one certificate for each seven hundred and fifty population in excess of the ratio herein prescribed, the issuance of such certificates to be made in order to the highest bidder therefor, who comply* with all such requirements. In any town or village having a population less than seven hundred and fifty, and in which there are no premises to which the prohibition contained in this subdivision does not apply, one liquor tax certificate for traffic in liquors under subdivision one of this section may, if such traffic is permissible, be issued to the person who shall offer to pay the highest amount for the right to traffic under such certificate, provided such amount shall at least equal the tax assessed upon such traffic in such town or village. For the purpose of determining who is the highest bidder for such right to traffic, the certificate issuing officer shall, upon written request, give public notice that on a certain day named he will receive bids in writing from all persons who desire to so traffic in liquors, and all the foregoing provisions contained in this subdivision relative to bidding for the right to traffic in liquors in any town or village shall be applicable to bids for the right to traffic in such town or village having a population less than seven hundred and fifty.

§ 2. Subdivision ten of section eight of such chapter, as added by chapter one hundred and sixty-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and thirteen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

10. Issuance of certificates under the provisions of subdivision two of this section. No liquor tax certificate shall hereafter be issued for traffic in liquors, under the provisions of subdivision two of this section, for any premises in any town, village, borough or city, unless or until the ratio of population therein, to the number of certificates issued under the provisions of said subdivision two, shall be greater than seven thousand five hundred to one, and then only pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision; but this prohibition shall not apply to any premises in which traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision two of this section was lawfully carried on at some time within one year immediately preceding the passage of this act, provided such traffic was not abandoned thereat during said period or to any premises that have been continuously occupied for a hotel from and including the twenty-third day of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-six; nor shall this prohibition apply to any premises in which, during said period of one year, or any part thereof, such traffic in liquors was suspended because of the result of a vote on the local option questions; nor to any premises in which, during said period of one year, or any part thereof, such traffic in liquors was prohibited because the certificated premises were suffered and permitted to become disorderly, or that gambling was allowed therein, as provided in subdivision four of section twenty-three of this chapter; nor to any premises in which, during said period of one year, or any part thereof, such traffic in liquors has been temporarily suspended, but not abandoned. Provided, however, that at any time during the unexpired term of any liquor tax certificate issued for traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision two of this section in any premises in which such traffic may lawfully be carried on, a notice stating that such traffic in liquors is abandoned at the premises named in such certificate may be filed with the county treasurer or special deputy commissioner of excise of the county or borough in which the certificated premises are located, which notice shall also particularly describe some other premises in which it is intended to carry on such traffic, which premises shall be situated in the same city, borough, village or town as that in which the abandoned premises are located. Such notice shall be in writing and executed and acknowledged by the certificate holder or by his duly authorized attorney and by any person to whom such certificate may have been transferred or assigned as collateral security for moneys loaned or any other obligation incurred. Such notice shall be null and void unless within sixty days from the filing thereof such traffic in liquors shall be lawfully carried on at the premises described in such notice as the premises in which it is intended to carry on such traffic, and continued thereat for a period of not less than sixty days, and the filing of a notice that becomes null and void shall not be deemed an abandonment of the traffic at the premises described in such liquor tax certificate. After the filing of such notice as aforesaid, the prohibition herein contained shall not apply to the premises described in such notice as the premises in which it is intended to carry on such traffic, provided that an application for a certificate to carry on such traffic in liquors thereat shall be made in due form to the proper officer, within sixty days from the filing of such notice, and provided further that such traffic is continuously thereafter carried on at said premises for a period not less than sixty days. Except in a case where such notice becomes null and void as aforesaid, no liquor tax certificate for traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision two of this section shall thereafter be issued for, and it shall be unlawful to so traffic in liquors in the premises described in such notice as the premises in which the traffic in liquors has been abandoned, unless there shall subsequently be filed another notice of abandonment, in the manner herein provided, which notice shall describe such first abandoned premises as the premises in which it is intended to again carry on such traffic in liquors. Whenever the ratio between the population of any city, borough, village or town, and the number of such premises situated therein for such traffic in liquors to which this prohibition does not apply, shall exceed the ratio of seven thousand five hundred to one, additional certificates for traffic in liquors under the provisions of subdivision two of this section may be issued to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner as is provided in subdivision nine of this section for the issuance of additional certificates under the provisions of subdivision one of this section.

§ 3. Subdivision five of section fifteen of such chapter, as amended by chapter two hundred and eighty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine and by chapter six hundred and forty-three of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, is hereby amended to read as follows:

5. And a statement that such applicant has not been convicted of a felony; has not been convicted of a violation of this law within three years prior to the date of such application; does not, as owner or agent, carry on, or permit to be carried on, nor is interested in any traffic, business or occupation, the carrying on of which is a violation of law, and may lawfully carry on such traffic in liquors upon such premises, under such subdivision, and is not within any of the prohibitions of this chapter. Also how many buildings occupied exclusively as dwellings there are, the nearest entrance to which is within two hundred feet measured in a straight line, of the nearest entrance to the premises where the traffic in liquors is intended to be carried on, and whether the applicant intends to traffic in liquors under the certificate applied for in any building, yard, booth, or other place, which is on the same street or avenue and within two hundred feet of a building occupied exclusively as a church or schoolhouse, and if either question is answered affirmatively that there are any such dwellings, church or school buildings, then said applicant shall also state whether such traffic in liquors was actually lawfully carried on in such premises on March twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, and if yes, the date since which said premises have been continuously occupied for such traffic in liquors; also if the applicant intends to traffic in liquors under the certificate applied for in any buildings, yard, booth, or other place, which is on the same street or avenue and within two hundred feet of a building occupied exclusively as a church or schoolhouse, then said applicant shall state the date since which said premises have been continuously lawfully occupied for such traffic in liquors and the date since which a building or buildings on the same street or avenue and within two hundred feet of said premises has been occupied exclusively as a church or schoolhouse; also whether said premises were actually occupied as a hotel on March twenty-third, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, and if yes, the date since which said premises have been continuously occupied as a hotel, and if no, the date since which the said premises have been continuously occupied for a hotel and the date since which a building or buildings on the same street or avenue within two hundred feet of said premises have been occupied exclusively as a church or schoolhouse; also whether any liquor tax certificate for traffic in liquors in such premises has been revoked or forfeited since the first day of May, nineteen hundred and twelve; and if yes, the date of the entry of the latest final order revoking or the date of the latest conviction or judgment forfeiting the same, and whether the violation for which such revocation or forfeiture was had was that the certificated premises had been suffered or permitted to be disorderly or that gambling had been suffered or permitted therein; also whether any person has been convicted since said date of a violation of the provisions of clause e of section thirty of this chapter relating to gambling or disorder, or of section eleven hundred and forty-six or of any section of article eighty-eight of the penal law committed in such premises by the holder of a liquor tax certificate or his agent, or in any premises which have or had any opening or means of entrance or passageway for persons or things between the premises where such violation occurred and the premises where the traffic in liquors is intended to be carried on; and if yes, the date of the latest conviction of any such person for such violation; also whether traffic in liquors was actually discontinued at said premises by reason of any such revocation or conviction; and if yes, the date when such traffic in liquors was actually discontinued.

§ 4. Subdivision eight of section fifteen of such chapter, as amended by chapter two hundred and eighty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, and by chapters four hundred and eighty-five and five hundred and three of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten, and chapter six hundred and forty-three of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, and chapter three hundred and seventy-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and twelve, is hereby amended to read as follows:

8. When the nearest entrance to the premises described in said statement as those in which traffic in liquors is to be carried on is within three hundred feet, measured in a straight line, of the nearest entrance to a building or buildings occupied exclusively for a dwelling, there shall also be filed simultaneously with said statement a consent in writing that such traffic in liquors be so carried on in said premises during a term therein stated, executed by the owner or owners, or by a duly authorized agent or agents of such owner or owners of at least two-thirds of the total number of such buildings within three hundred feet so occupied as dwellings, and acknowledged as are deeds entitled to be recorded, except that such consent shall not be required in cases where such traffic in liquor was actually lawfully carried on in said premises so described in said statement on the twenty-third day of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, nor shall such consent be required for any place described in said statement which was occupied as a hotel on said last mentioned date, notwithstanding such traffic in liquors was not then carried on thereat. Whenever the consents shall have been obtained and filed as required by law at the time of such filing unless the same be given for a limited term, no further or other consent for trafficking in liquor on such premises shall be required so long as such premises shall be continuously occupied for such traffic.

§ 5. Section twenty-three of such chapter, as amended by chapter seven hundred and four of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten and by chapter six hundred and forty-three of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 23.* Places in which traffic in liquor shall not be permitted. Traffic in liquor shall not be permitted:

1. In any building or upon any premises or lands established as a penal institution, protectory, industrial school, asylum, state hospital, state agricultural and industrial school, colony or institution established for the care or treatment of epileptics, or poorhouse, and if such building, premises or lands, other than a county jail or state prison, be situated in a town and outside the limits of an incorporated village or city, not within one-half mile of any building, premises or lands so occupied, provided there be such distance of one-half mile between such building, premises and lands and the nearest boundary line of such village or city; provided, however, that this prohibition shall not apply to a place, which on the twenty-third of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, was lawfully occupied for a hotel and situated within one-half mile of a poorhouse; and provided, also, that such prohibition shall not apply to any place within the above prescribed limit of a building, premises or lands occupied as a state hospital, if simultaneously with the filing of each application statement descriptive of such traffic, there shall be filed a consent in writing that such traffic in liquors be so carried on during the term stated in the application, executed by a majority of the board of managers, and the superintendent of such state hospital, and acknowledged as are deeds entitled to be recorded.

2. Under the provisions of subdivision one of section eight of this chapter, in any building, yard, booth or other place which shall be on the same street or avenue and within two hundred feet of a building occupied exclusively as a church or schoolhouse; the measurements to be taken in a straight line from the center of the nearest entrance of the building used for such church or school to the center of the nearest entrance of the place in which such liquor traffic is desired to be carried on; provided, however, that this prohibition shall not apply to a place which on the twenty-third of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, was lawfully occupied for a hotel, nor to a place in which such traffic in liquors was actually lawfully carried on at that date, nor to a place which at such time was occupied, or was in process of construction, by a corporation or association which traffics in liquors solely with the members thereof, nor to a place within such limit to which a corporation or association trafficking in liquors solely with the members thereof, at such date may remove; nor to any place within the above prescribed limit of a building occupied exclusively as a church, if, simultaneously with the filing of an application statement descriptive of such traffic, there shall be filed a consent in writing that such traffic in liquors be so carried on during a term therein stated, executed by the corporation, association or society using such building as a church, or the duly authorized agent thereof, and acknowledged as are deeds entitled to be recorded; nor to a place in which traffic in liquors was lawfully carried on continuously from a date prior to the date when a building on the same street or avenue and within two hundred feet of said place has been occupied exclusively as a church or schoolhouse; nor to any premises which have been continuously occupied for a hotel, from a date prior to the date when a building on the same street or avenue and within two hundred feet of said premises has been occupied exclusively as a church or schoolhouse; but none of the exceptions under this subdivision shall apply to subdivision one of this section, or to any of the places enumerated in this subdivision which shall have had a liquor tax certificate for trafficking in liquors in such place revoked after the first day of May, nineteen hundred and five, or forfeited for any violation of law committed after the first day of May, nineteen hundred and eight, providing the violation of law for which such revocation or forfeiture was had was either that the certificated premises had been suffered or permitted to be disorderly or that gambling had been suffered or permitted therein, unless consent as hereinbefore provided shall thereafter be obtained and filed.

3. In any premises or in any yard, booth, garden or other place appertaining thereto or connected therewith, so long as said premises continue to be occupied, not exceeding one year, by any person who was the holder of a certificate for traffic in liquors at said premises revoked and cancelled, or forfeited under any section of this chapter, or which premises continue to be occupied not exceeding one year by a member of the family of such person, or his agent or any person in his employ or representing him, unless there shall be obtained and filed simultaneously with the application statement for a certificate for traffic in liquors at said premises a consent in writing that such traffic in liquors be so carried on in said premises, as required by the provisions of subdivision eight of section fifteen, notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter. Provided, that the discontinuance of traffic in liquors for one year or less by reason of the provisions of this subdivision shall not operate or be construed to forfeit any right of traffic, which, under the provisions of this section or of section fifteen of this chapter, attached to the place for which such forfeited or revoked certificate was held.

4. In any premises or in any yard, booth, garden or other place appertaining thereto or connected therewith which any person while the holder of a liquor tax certificate issued for said premises, or his agent, had suffered or permitted to become disorderly or in which such person had suffered or permitted any gambling, or in any premises which have or had any opening or means of entrance or passageway for persons or things between such premises and any other room or place which any such person whosoever has suffered or permitted to become disorderly or in which any gambling has been suffered or permitted, by reason of which offense or offenses any liquor tax certificate has been revoked or any such person has been convicted of a violation of the provisions of clause e of section thirty of this chapter relating to gambling or disorder, or of section eleven hundred and forty-six or any section of article eighty-eight of the penal law, until one year from the date of the entry of the order revoking a certificate or the judgment of conviction for such violation, notwithstanding at the time of any such conviction there be an unexpired liquor tax certificate issued for said premises not forfeited by reason of such conviction or notwithstanding at the time of such revocation or conviction the said premises be not certificated for traffic in liquors; provided that the said period of one year shall be computed from the date of the actual discontinuance of the traffic in liquors at the premises by reason of any such revocation or conviction, and any period of time subsequent to such revocation or conviction during which such traffic is not discontinued, whether by reason of the existence of a stay or injunction order or the pendency of any action or proceeding, or otherwise, shall not be deemed a part or portion of the said period of one year; provided further that the discontinuance of traffic in liquors for one year, by reason of the provisions of this subdivison shall not operate or be construed to forfeit any right to traffic which, under the provisions of this section or of section fifteen of this chapter, attached to the premises where traffic is so discontinued.

5. In any form, in, upon or from any vehicle, except as provided in subdivisions four and five of section eight of this chapter.

ADVERTISEMENT WRITING.

ADVERTISEMENTS, Booklets, Circulars, etc., as I prepare them, are the yeast that raises your sales. They are well worked together with selling phrases that "stick," seasoned with sugar-coated words of persuasion, and contain the salt that shortens time and emphasizes success. Don't get the idea that everything that talks about your store is advertising, and remember that advertising which brings results is not a gallop of imagination driven by an amateur writer or an "intelligent" clerk. Let me help you. George M. Zellmer, care of Kingston Freeman.

NO BODIES FOUND IN SUNKEN SUBMARINE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Honolulu, Aug. 31.—Not a body was found today in the hull of the United States submarine F-4, raised yesterday, which sank last March off this port with Lieut. Ede and twenty-one men.

Neither did the naval men who raised the diver find any record left by Lieut. Ede concerning the cause of the submarine disaster.

The submarine which went to the bottom and failed to rise five months ago, was brought to the surface yesterday. Today the vessel was placed in drydock. It rested on its starboard side. There were great holes in the bow and stern of the submarine. No trace of a body was discovered, but the side of the hull was filled with debris. This is to be searched for bodies, but the holes in the under-sea boat allowed the entrance of marine monsters with which the Honolulu waters abound and it was feared that the bodies of the F-4 victims had been destroyed.

Unique American Families.

The Harrison family, like the Adams family of Massachusetts, on its illustrious genealogical tree carries the names of one signer of the Declaration of Independence and two presidents of the United States, and in this record the Adamses and the Harrisons stand apart in a class by themselves. These distinctions in one family, it can be noted, will never again be equaled. They remain unique in the history of the country.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 31.—Trading this morning gave evidence of a disposition on the part of the speculative element to devote more attention to the railroad issues. There was brisk buying of both Erie and New Haven, the last named stock advancing a point to 67, while Erie Common rose ¾ to 29¼ and the first preferred moved up ¾ to 44¾. Union Pacific was also active and strong, advancing ⅝ to 132⅝. The strength in the railroad list was based to a great extent on the good showing of net earnings made by the trunk lines for the month of July with most attention paid to the increase on Erie. U. S. Steel fell ½ to 75¼ and fractional losses were sustained in a number of other steel industrials, including Great Northern Ore, American Can and Pressed Steel Car. Third Avenue was unfavorably influenced by the published statement in regard to uncertain prospects of dividend action at an early date and yielded ½ to 53¾.

A heavy tone developed at the end of the first half hour. Floor traders took an aggressive position on the bear side, making determined attempts on Steel Common and there was talk about many stop orders being struck about 75. At first the stock was offered down to 75¼ but rallied to 75⅝. However, the pressure was increased and at the end of the first hour the price dropped to 74¾. The weakness in this stock had an unsettling influence on other industrials. Crucible declined from 76 to 74¾, American Car and Foundry fell 1¾ to 68¼, American Can a point to 59¼ and losses of about one point were recorded in Republic Iron and Steel, Allis-Chalmers and Westinghouse. Tennessee dropped 1¾ to 54¼ and American Linseed, which opened at 23¾, yielded to 20¼. Bethlehem dropped seven points to 285. The railroad issues after showing a strong tone early followed the industrials on the decline. Call money loaned at 1¾ per cent.

There was little feature to the trading in the afternoon business being in small volume and transactions in the usually active speculative issues reflecting almost wholly a shifting of position of some of the room traders.

Stocks closed steady; government bonds unchanged; other bonds steady.

Quotations furnished by John D. Kline, Broadway and Strand, Kingston, N. Y., Tel. 93. Correspondent of C. M. Van Buren & Company, members of Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Wednesday evening the board of directors of the Kingston Symphony Society will hold an important meeting at Symphony Hall in the Crosby building.

The marriage of Miss Anna Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Camp of No. 174 Foxhall avenue, to Elwood Bailey of New York city, will take place on Labor Day.

A delightful surprise party was tendered to Thomas Krum on Sunday in honor of his birthday at his home, No. 10 St. James street by his friends. Refreshments were served and all wished their host many more happy anniversaries.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Florence Eva Marshall, daughter of Mrs. Albert I. Bingham of Poughkeepsie, and Harry B. Coutant, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Coutant, of Highland. The wedding will take place in the fall.

On Sunday evening Miss Agnes Krengloskie was the hostess of a social to a number of friends from this city and Brooklyn. During the evening a number of vocal selections were rendered, accompanied on the piano by John Spalt, Jr., of musical fame, who also played other popular selections. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening and all left in a jolly mood declaring Miss Agnes a charming hostess. Among those present were the Misses Agnes and Carrie Krengloskie, Nellie Doyle and the Misses Lena, Tillie and Anna Leopold, and the Messrs. William Roe, Leo Perry, Frank Ryan, Leo Krengloskie, Oscar Wolvenstein and John Spalt.

Losee-Delaney.

Henry Losee of Poughkeepsie and Miss Amelia B. Delaney of Saugerties were married in St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, on Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James A. Talbot. The attendants were Miss Catherine Sweeney and Leonard Sinnott.

O'Conner-Legg.

Miss Helen Legg, daughter of Mrs. Caroline Legg, of West Bridge street, Saugerties, and John J. O'Connor of Brooklyn were married in Saugerties Saturday night by Justice of the Peace William Chidester.

Wedded on an Island.

On Friday, the 27th of August, at 3:30 o'clock, the marriage of Miss Beulah Brandow of Catskill, N. Y., and Antonio Lemos, of New York, was solemnized on beautiful Odell Island, opposite Silver Bay. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Thornton B. Penfield of Englewood, N. J. The romance began a couple of years ago, when the couple were employed by the Silver Bay Association. Last year they were nearly drowned, when their canoe capsized, during a severe squall. Surrounded by the grandeur and beauty of the lake, and the mountain scenery the service was very impressive, unique and pretty. The bride was attended by forty bridesmaids, gowned in white, wearing festoons of golden rod and holding ropes of this same flower, thus forming an aisle through which the couple wended their way. A fitting background for the ceremony was an archway, made of trees, filled in with golden rod and draped with the American and Brazilian flags. The bride was gowned in a dress of white net, trimmed with delicate lace. She carried a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums, asters and ferns. The guests were carried to the island in motor boats, canoes and row-boats. A unique feature of the occasion was the fact that the bride and groom paddled their own canoe to the scene of the ceremony. As they touched the shore, Miss Edith Williams of Roselle, N. J., sang most beautifully "O Promise Me" and to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the couple passed through the aisle of admiring friends that stretched practically the whole length of the island. At the close of the ceremony Miss Florence Park of Roselle, N. J., sang "I Love You" most sweetly.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gates and daughter, Mrs. H. Brandow of Catskill, the mother of the bride, Mr Brandow and family of Albany, Mrs. Harriet Decker, of Poughkeepsie, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Goodman and family of Silver Bay, Prof. and Mrs. Berry of Springfield, Mass., employes of the Silver Bay Association, and friends from neighboring camps and cottages and hotels. Mr. and Mrs. Lemos will spend their honeymoon among the glories of this beautiful lake, camping, fishing and canoeing. Their many friends wish them all kinds of success and happiness, with a life full of the best things. Miss Brandow is a former teacher in Ulster Academy.

There were 1,155 persons on board when the Sirius drew away from her dock.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

The funeral of Anthony Brown was held Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. James A. Talbot, pastor of the church. The bearers were Dr. T. F. O'Dea, Henry L. Cox, John Hennegan, Sr., William R. Johnson, Anthony C. Spatz and William Kelly. The interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Mullen died on Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Clark, 218 Patchen avenue, Brooklyn, aged 81 years. She is survived by four daughters, Mary Clark, wife of William T. Clark, the actor; Margaret Mullen, Mrs. J. K. Bliss of Pine Hill, and Miss Rose Mullen of Oklahoma, and two sons, John and Alexander. The funeral was held this morning at the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel. The body was brought to this city for interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

The funeral of James Walton, who was killed in New York on Saturday, was held this morning at 9 o'clock at his late residence on Meadow street and at 9:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. The services were conducted by the Rev. John J. Hickey and the Rev. Father Gilmartin. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery. From the house to the church and thence to the cemetery the funeral cortege was lead by members of Rescue Hook and Ladder Company and the officials of the local fire department, accompanied by the Colonial City Band, which played along the route to the cemetery. There was a large attendance at the services, testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was held by his friends in this city.

Ashokan, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Elizabeth House died Tuesday morning after a short illness. She had passed her 97th mile stone. She leaves one son, James K. DuBois, of this place, with whom she made her home. The funeral was held Friday in the Reformed Church of which her name had rested on its book for 49 years, closing only as she responded to the roll all from the Book of Life. Rev. Mr. Gulick pastor, gave a splendid talk from the words, "Blessed are they who die in the Lord, for their works do follow them." The choir rendered two hymns and A. P. Loomis sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," the piece dear to her and one that he sang at her husband's funeral. At the close Rev. Mr. Brink, a former pastor, too up the thread of the words of the text as applied to her Christian life. His short association with her revealed her wonderful personality, her great influence for good in the town—her interest and work for the church and the temperance cause. She was the peace maker. Those who had grown up with her and were co-workers bore testimony that her life had measured up fully to all that had been said. Her religion was a sunlight which touched lives all about her. He called attention to her home life. Her grandfather, John Boice, a hardy pioneer of early days, had been one present at the laying of the corner stone of the Shokan Reformed Church in 1802; his son Abram, her father, was a factor in the church life. He was known as Domine Boice because of his ability as an exhorter. It was said no storm only sickness held him from attending service. Her Christian home, made her with her talent, a force for good and she grew in the graces. The 4th of November, 1818, she married Benjamin Davis DuBois and the two enjoyed the church life. In 1866 she was left a widow with her little son. Several years later she married Capt. G. O. House of Rockland. In 1839 Mr. House had been at Tongore and united with the Reformed Church at Shokan. After years intervening and having married he came back to the old Boice homestead to live. This was a happy union also and together their Christian service went to the old home church. Hand in hand they did their work which was far reaching and brought forth much fruit. The captain, a Prohibitionist, she a white ribboner. He the Sunday school superintendent and she a teacher. Twelve years ago this July she laid him in the tomb. Her faith took her beyond the vale of tears, her faith a strength to others. Some day she too would make the Great Divide, see the risen Christ and meet her loved ones. Mr. Brink said that she had had sorrows and troubles too but the spirit in which she met all was a lesson. The old homestead had been taken by the water works and it was hard to go from there and the church, too, had passed the same—the old and dear associates were left only in memory. Her son has served in the church for years and is a trustee and elder still. To look at her as she lay in the last sleep; peace written on her face breathed the silent conviction, that the greatest victory of life is the living Christianity that carries beyond the grave and wins the crown of life. E. L. L.

In Memoriam.

A sorrow that is keenly felt has entered the homes of many in Kingston in the death of Mrs. Michael Howard, who departed this life at her home No. 182 West Pierpont street, on August 21, 1915. With the members of her family around her the end came and a brave, kind heart, loving and forgiving, became stilled forever. Those who knew her best realize that her soul went out bravely, not into the darkness of night, but into the brightness of eternity. She was a model in her suffering, bearing all as it came from the hand of God and her friends feel that she has indeed heard the solemn words, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of the Lord." The sympathy for the bereaved family was shown by their presence at the home and by their attendance at the funeral. Beautiful floral tokens further expressed their love and sorrow. She was a faithful member of St. Mary's Church, where the funeral took place on Friday at 10 a. m., when a solemn requiem mass was offered for the repose of her soul, the Rev. J. J. Hickey acting as celebrant, the Rev. Stephen Connolly, deacon; and the Rev. Daniel Gilmartin subdeacon with her five grandsons acting as altar boys. The pastor paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the deceased. The bearers were Edward T. McGill, Frank P. Quigley, James F. Dwyer, Thomas F. McAndrew, James T. O'Neil and John Eagan. During the services a beautiful solo was rendered by Harry T. Howard. The interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, the Rev. Father Hickey having charge of the committal services. Mrs. Howard is survived by her husband and six children, Ella T., wife of John F. Halloran, Michael of this city, Thomas J., of New York city, William J., of Corona, L. I., Edward F., and Margaret M., wife of John B. Glennon of this city, besides seventeen grandchildren. To them is tendered sincere sympathy and trust that they may see in their bereavement the work of the Divine Master whose tender care has ended her period of waiting and has guided her to her eternal rest, where safe from suffering or sorrow, she will await her dear ones whose grief should be lessened by he knowledge that her life's work is done and that in it was comprised more good than has been accomplished by the greatest of the world's women. May her soul rest in peace.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Aug 31 - After nearly a month of experiment, it is found that the reduction of admission prices to the Federal League parks has met with an amazing response throughout the entire circuit The receipts of the clubs have doubled and in some cases tripled since the so-called 10 cent baseball became operative

Newark continues to be one of the best examples of what lower priced baseball has done Before it became operative a 6,000 to 10,000 crowd on Sunday was big On the first Sunday that the new plan was put into force 20,000 paying fans jammed their way into the park On the second Sunday, August 15, the paid crowd totalled 17,500 and on Sunday the 22nd 20,041 fans paid admission, in the face of the fact that the weather was threatening all day.

Cheaper Prices Bring New Fans.

An entirely new crop of fans is being harvested by the Feds as a result of the lower admission prices The bleachers where the admission price used to be 25 cents and where it now is 10 cents, are peopled in the main by the kids—lovers of baseball who never could afford to pay 25 cents but who can afford a dime

The old time bleacherites have moved up into the pavilion where an outlay of 25 cents will get them the same seat that used to cost 50 The once time pavilionites also have advanced They felt able in the past to pay 50 cents for a seat at the ball game but they didn't feel able to pay out 75 cents for the choicer grand stand seat Now they sit in the grand stand—for 50 cents

Attendance Increases Everywhere.

Over nearly a month's stretch, statistics gathered by the Federal League officials, covering all the clubs in the circuit show just what it showed during the first week that the new plan was in operation—that although the admission prices have been reduced about 33 per cent the attendance has increased from 50 to 150 per cent

High prices—that's what's been the matter with baseball,' asserts Harry Sinclair, owner of the Newark Feds, and the man who launched the lower priced baseball plan "I reached this conclusion only after a lot of study over the situation—and the result of the innovation, so far, bears me out"

It is so absurd for organized baseball and for a rare few of the sporting writers to take the view that lower prices will cheapen baseball How can it cheapen the game? It doesn't affect the playing and it doesn't affect anything but the pocketbook of the fan—and it affects that only in a way that is pleasant for the fan '

Sinclair Raps High Prices.

'For many years the fans submitted tamely to the holdup of the baseball magnates They paid the big prices demanded because up to last year the country was prosperous But as soon as the European war came, throwing hundreds of thousands of fans out of work and a reduction in the salaries of thousands more, the fans ceased to go to the parks They couldn't afford to pay the prices demanded

"Conditions were nearly back to normal when the 1915 season opened But the fans wouldn't come back Why? For the simple reason that they awakened during the latter part of 1914 to the fact that the then prevailing prices for a major league baseball entertainment was all out of proportion to the pleasure derived

In other words the majority of fans concluded they weren't getting their money's worth—and they weren't

'The prices that prevail throughout the Federal League now are in our minds, fair and equitable prices They are prices within reach of all And right now I'll utter a little prophecy—the prices that prevail in our league now are the prices that organized baseball will be forced to adopt before the 1917 season opens"

Better Train Service Wanted

Residents of towns along the Central New England Railroad in Ulster county are putting forth a movement for better train service between Campbell Hall and Poughkeepsie The only accommodation for passengers is the milk train which goes to Poughkeepsie in the morning and returns late in the afternoon This does not permit them to go to Poughkeepsie unless they have to stay all day and the connections with Campbell Hall to get a train for New York are not all that is to be desired A committee on the committee urging this change are the Rev Mr Halsey and I F Hasbrouck of Modena, A L F Dean of Gardiner and Martin S Decker of New Paltz

MODERATION.

In work or play never overdo. Balzac said: "By two instinctive processes man exhausts the springs of life within him. Two verbs cover all the forms which these two causes may take—to will and to have your will." If you will to do too much in any line you exhaust the springs of life. To keep health, to keep young as long as possible, strive in work and in play, in eating and thinking, to preserve the golden mean.

No Trouble.

"What's the matter—having trouble with your car?"

ANGER.

When angry passions rise in the heart it is well always to pause before we give expression to our thoughts A delay of a few moments has set many seeming affronts in a juster and kinder light. It will often lessen, if not annihilate, the supposed injury and may prevent violent and revengeful words and deeds.
